

Create inclusive environments that support educator wellbeing

Educator wellbeing is promoted when the design of the facilities is appropriate for service operations. Inclusive educator environments take into account the wide range of tasks required and comply with workplace health and safety requirements.

