

Educator wellbeing fosters respectful and equitable interactions and relationships with children.

Educator and child wellbeing are promoted when sensitive, trusting and meaningful relationships are nurtured. Respectful, responsive interactions support belonging, inclusion and confidence which build a strong foundation for relationships.

